

ARC IN ACTION

Welcome back! In this month's edition, we'll share some exciting details about our Fund the Fun virtual event, celebrate two Gold level Fund the Fun sponsors, and recognize a generous donation to our childcare programs.

Don't Miss the Kraken's Everett Fitzhugh As Fund the Fun Keynote Speaker

Make sure you register today! We're just about three weeks away from our third annual Fund the Fun breakfast. This year's program promises to be inspirational with a keynote address from the Seattle Kraken's Everett Fitzhugh, the first Black play-by-play broadcaster in National Hockey League history! All proceeds from this event support youth sports and recreation scholarships for our neighbors in need.

Our virtual event will be held on Wednesday, March 24th from 9 to 9:30 AM.

Thanks to Our Gold Level Fund the Fun Sponsors!

Harborstone Credit Union joins a list of prestigious partners supporting Fund the Fun this year. As our newest Gold level partner, Harborstone Credit Union has a long history of giving back. With branches in 15 locations across Puget Sound, their mission is to build trusted, meaningful relationships with the local businesses and organizations that serve as the foundation of our local communities. Thank you, Harborstone!

And for the third year in a row, our partner Seattle Parks and Recreation will again be a Gold sponsor of our signature event. We thank you for your generous contributions. Your support is invaluable to making this special event a success!

Our Childcare Programs Receive Gift From Seattle Foundation

We're extremely grateful to The Seattle Foundation for their $25,000 donation to support our childcare programs for essential workers and scholarship families. Their COVID-19 Response Fund, supported by over 60 fund partners and thousands of individuals and families, provides flexible resources to organizations supporting vulnerable communities on the frontlines of the coronavirus pandemic in King County. We are so appreciative of their generosity.
