$385/WEEK ($08 for the week of 7/4)

SurvivorQuest combines a focused teaching of survival skills with the high-flying fun of Camp Long's high ropes course. Over the course of each week, campers will help design their experience by scheduling what survival skills they want to learn while moving back and forth between learning to live outdoors and showing what they're made of on Camp Long's various challenge course elements. Monday each week, campers will plan their week with the help of a trained SurvivorQuest educator, making sure campers are learning the skills that they want to learn. You won't find a more customizable and rewarding experience anywhere in Seattle!
